Purpose:

The purpose of the Attendance Information System is threefold. First, it helps teachers to keep track of important information related to their interactions with families—particularly as it relates to attendance. This includes reasons for student absences or tardies, actions taken to address these reasons, and a reminder of their communications with families. Second, the system facilitates knowledge sharing across school personnel by allowing authorized individuals to see who has been in contact with the family and what was discussed. Third, the system provides a means of communication between the teachers and the research team. Although the research team sees only de-identified data about students, the system provides real time information about which students teachers are working with to address attendance and for which students additional consultation services might be most helpful. The data system also provides valuable information for evaluating the effectiveness of the Early Truancy Prevention intervention and for improving it in the future.

Logging In

Getting Started

In order to log in you will need a user account and a temporary password which Erika Hallerman can provide. (erika.hallerman@duke.edu).

The first time you log in you will use the temporary password given to you.

*When you first log into the system, you will be required change your password. Do not share this password with anyone.

Your new password must be 8 characters long and include at least one non alphanumeric character (such as ! @ % ^).

Class List

The class list provides a roster of all of the students in your classroom.

From this page you can:

- Add a new student to your class list
- Organize your class list
 - * Choose which columns to appear
 - * Sort your students by name, Unique ID, reason added to the target list
 - * Search for a particular student
 - * Star a student as a reminder to yourself for any reason
- Select a student to enter your work with that student
- Edit a student's profile

From the home screen select the "Class List" tab.

When you first log in, there will be no students listed. After you have entered students, it will look like the following.

Add Student

Selecting add student will let you add a new student.

Selecting Edit from the class list will allow you to edit a student's profile.

Adding a New Student

To add a student to your class click “Add Student.”

When you add a new student you will be asked to complete a student profile by completing the information shown below.

Most of the fields are clear (e.g. first name, last name). Two fields deserve a little more explanation.

The first is Unique ID which is the number assigned for research purposes. Barbara Goins should be able to provide this information.

The Unique ID is a very important field for teachers and school personnel to communicate with the research team because the research team will not have access to the students’ names. Therefore, this Unique ID will be the only means of communicating about particular students.

The second is Status which reflects whether or not the student is currently “in class” or “no longer in class”.

“No longer in class” would be appropriate for students who were at some point in your classroom but who have left your classroom for any reason.

The screenshot shows a web form for adding a new student. At the top is a navigation bar with 'Home' and 'Class List' links. The form is divided into three main sections: 'Name', 'Additional Information', and 'Preferred Contact'. In the 'Name' section, there are three required fields: 'First Name', 'Last Name', and 'Unique ID'. The 'Unique ID' field is circled in red, and a red arrow points from the text 'The first is Unique ID' to it. In the 'Additional Information' section, there are dropdown menus for 'Sex', 'Class', and 'Status'. The 'Status' dropdown is open, showing three options: 'in class', 'Select One', and 'no longer in class'. The 'in class' option is highlighted in blue, and a red circle is drawn around the dropdown menu. A red arrow points from the text 'The second is Status' to this dropdown. In the 'Preferred Contact' section, there is a 'Relationship' dropdown (set to 'Mother') and text input fields for 'First Name', 'Last Name', 'Phone', and 'Email'. Below these fields is a large 'Notes' text area. At the bottom left of the form is a 'Save' button. A red arrow points from the text 'Click to save student profile.' to this button.

Fourth, each column in the table can be sorted in ascending or descending order by clicking on the column heading. For instance, student’s can be sorted by last name, Unique id, or the most recent date that you contacted the family. Students can also be sorted by their status on the target list or the reason for being added to the target list.

Working with Individual Students

From the class list (see page 6), clicking a student's name will allow you to:

- View your work with the student and family
 - * A student's preferred contact information
 - * A list of actions that has occurred with the student
- Add a new interaction
- Add a new barrier to attendance
- Add a new step taken
- Change a student's status

View Your Work With the Student and Family

This page displays a summary of the data that you have already entered about this student. Similar to the class list, you can select which columns you view, the number of entries that you see, and the order in which the information is sorted.

Adding a New Interaction:

The purpose of this form is to log the communication that occurs between school personnel and families.

Currently, you may be the only person in the school who has access to your class roster. However, over time other professionals such as the principal or the social worker may also want to log their interactions with families and view data that you have entered. This could help to coordinate efforts by school personnel on behalf of families.

Remember to click "Save" after you have entered information. Do NOT click save if you have not entered any information. Clicking the back button on your browser will return you to your class list.

Barriers to Attendance:

The purpose of this form is to track barriers that a student or family is experiencing which are causing the child to miss school, show up late, or to leave early.

If you select "other" please describe in the notes what other is.

You can also enter additional information in the notes that would be helpful to your work with the family.

Enter the date which you learned about the barrier and select each of the barriers that are relevant for that student.

New Steps Taken:

This form allows you to document the work you have done with families to alleviate any barriers that are preventing a student from attending school

If the step you took is not listed please select other and complete the notes field. You can also use the notes to enter additional information about your work with the family.
